

The RURAL Study is searching for a CT technologist who is licensed in the state of Mississippi to work in our mobile exam unit (MEU). Interested candidates should send resume to Mr. David Rhodes drhodes@uab.edu

Qualifications

Currently registered as a Registered Technologist with Computed Tomography (CT) Designation by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists (ARRT) or registered within six (6) months from date of hire for CT eligible candidates required

Ability to work with Microsoft office platforms including excel and access, online survey systems and database management including RedCap

Willing to travel 80-90% of the time. Travel will be reimbursed.

Utilize project management skills to plan and achieve recruitment goals to support success of the research project milestones and lab goals

Potential candidates must demonstrate excellent verbal and written communication and customer service skills, as well as maintain a high level of professionalism

The ideal candidate must possess independent judgement and decision-making skills

Ability to perform job duties with limited supervision utilizing knowledge and experience for independent decision-making, creative problem-solving and a high degree of accountability is an essential requirement

Responsibilities

The candidate is responsible for assisting with the recruitment and enrollment of participants

The candidate must be able to work well in a team-based environment and to build/maintain relationships with our partner clinical sites

Communicate with diverse members of the general public while representing the RURAL Study

Appropriately screens interested persons for eligibility performs informed consent

Conduct baseline interview (blood draw, spirometry, chest CT, Echocardiogram, form administration, blood pressure, anthropometrics)

Maintain strict confidentiality of personal information

Performs other related duties as directed to support the missions of the research study

Interested candidates should email their resumes to Mr. David Rhodes drhodes@uab.edu